

Six Word Memoirs from the CYAS Youth Services Mixer @ Encinitas Branch Library
San Diego County Library
March 13, 2009

As part of the activities at the mixer, attendees wrote six-word memoirs describing either their youth services work, or their lives.

Looking for wings to see again.

Proud to be a Filipino American.

Opportunity, options, visions, hormones; more tomorrow.

What to do when I grow up?

Creative collector of chaotic life lessons.

Single cute female seeks male incarnate.

Taking distorted pictures of Laurie Knodle.

Many jobs

Many people

Many experiences

This is fun!

Do it again!

This moment

This breath

Here now

They bring all the good memories.

Youth are great and it's rewarding.

Starting out on an exciting path!

From New Jersey
To California
Eureka!

One bad peanut M&M, I'm out!

Daughter, sister, friend, girlfriend, teacher =
Librarian ☺

Free spirited children's librarian at heart

Librarians make something out of nothing! ☺

Not ready to grow up yet.

Blessed with purpose and preschool fans.

I expect much from the world.

Don't be afraid to use glitter!

Two cats

Two kids

One husband

Wallflowers turn to butterflies taking flight.

I'm laughing inside where it counts.

Dance with me if you dare.

Christ follower

People lover

Scrabble player

Unemployment means more time for reading!

Never a dull moment!